

High Impact Technology Exchange Conference

Educating America's Technical Workforce

Fairmont Scottsdale (Arizona)

July 19–22, 2009

Title: Session C5: Nanotechnologists: A Job in Many Markets

Date/Time: Wednesday, July 22, 1:30 PM – 3:00 PM

Location: Fairmont Scottsdale Resort, Salon C

Description: This session will discuss nanotechnology in the broadest context. Not only in how nanotechnology applies to different markets and skill sets but attendees will also gain an appreciation of how different existing skill sets, knowledge and abilities can be applied to nanoscience.

Technicians in many different fields will be impacted by changes in their field brought about by nanotechnology. Awareness and information about the impact of nanotechnology will increase the viability of workers in many disciplines allowing them to apply current skills in new areas.

Examples and activities will compliment the presentations, providing the audience with a glimpse of the nanoscale.

Presenters:

Deb Newberry, Dakota County Technical College
Mike Burke, North Dakota State College of Science
John Wagner, Chippewa Valley Technical College
